HARBORVIEW

BISTRO & BAR

FINE WHISKEY LIST

Welcome to our whiskey list—a curated voyage through oak, time, and tradition. Whether you're a seasoned collector or just beginning your adventure, this guide is here to welcome you warmly. It is not a textbook or a checklist, but an invitation—a whispered story shared across generations, where each bottle holds a page of history, and every sip is a chance to discover something new.

Whiskey began as "uisce beatha," the water of life, first distilled by monks in ancient Ireland and Scotland. From stone monasteries and copper stills, it found its way into the hands of farmers, bootleggers, and master blenders. Across centuries, it has matured in oak barrels and in memory—always evolving, yet always rooted in craft, care, and place.

At its essence, whiskey is a transformation of grain, water, fire, and time. But what makes it extraordinary is how many forms that transformation can take. American bourbon, made mostly from corn and aged in new charred oak, offers warmth, sweetness, and notes of vanilla and spice. Rye, its spicier cousin, brings sharper edges and peppery boldness—fiery and herbaceous, a whiskey with a faster heartbeat. Scotch whisky, shaped by Scottish weather and tradition, ranges from the delicate florals of Speyside to the briny smoke of Islay's windswept shores. Irish whiskey, typically triple-distilled, leans light and smooth, with honeyed fruit and gentle elegance. And far beyond the British Isles, world whiskeys have emerged: Japan's precise, layered artistry; Taiwan's lush tropical intensity; Canada's soft, cereal-forward blends—all unique expressions shaped by climate, culture, and curiosity.

You don't need to know everything to enjoy whiskey. In fact, you don't need to know anything. Just begin. Trust your senses. Try something old or something bold. Ask us questions, or let the descriptions guide you gently. Let this be a map and a lantern—a companion, not a test.

As you read through this list, you'll notice each whiskey has a story, sometimes in its ingredients, sometimes in its origin, sometimes just in how it makes you feel. There is no right way to explore, only your way. This is a quiet celebration of craft, place, and time. We hope it delights, intrigues, and comforts you.

There is magic in these bottles. You're invited to taste it.

AMERICAN WHISKEY

American whiskey is, in many ways, the spirit of the frontier—restless, inventive, and deeply tied to the land. It began with farmers and immigrants, with copper stills tucked into hollows and recipes passed by word of mouth. From the earliest days of the republic, distillation was a way to preserve surplus grain, to warm cold nights, and to craft something lasting out of something fleeting.

What started in the hills of Pennsylvania and the hollers of Kentucky grew into a national identity. Corn, abundant and hearty, became the grain of choice for much of the country, giving rise to the sweet richness of bourbon. In northern climates, rye fields flourished, and with them came a spicier, bolder whiskey—fiery, lean, and full of bite. Each region brought its own twist, and over time, American whiskey came to reflect the diversity and ambition of the nation itself.

The journey hasn't always been smooth. Prohibition nearly erased the industry, and for decades afterward, American whiskey was often overlooked, considered old-fashioned or unsophisticated. But in the last few decades, it has returned to prominence with force. A new generation of distillers—reverent of tradition but unafraid to experiment—has rekindled the fire. Today, America is home not only to legendary brands, but to a thriving movement of small-batch and craft producers, exploring ancient grains, unique barrels, and bold ideas.

American whiskey is big-hearted. It wears its flavors proudly—sweet corn, charred oak, spice, caramel, leather, smoke. It invites you in, and then surprises you. It is a living tradition: proud of its past, but always moving forward.

Bourbon

Bourbon may not be required by law to come from Kentucky, but its soul never truly left. Named for Bourbon County, where early American distillers first charred oak barrels and filled them with sweet corn mash, the style was born in the hills and hollers of a young nation. To this day, the vast majority of bourbon is still made in Kentucky, where limestone-rich water, seasonal aging, and generations of know-how give it unmistakable character. Rich with vanilla, caramel, and spice, bourbon is bold yet warm – a whiskey of heritage, hospitality, and unmistakably American pride.

Our selection brings together that proud lineage with modern creativity: you'll find classics aged deep in Kentucky rickhouses, like Elijah Craig and Henry McKenna, side by side with boundary-pushers like Legent's East-meets-West collaboration or 2Bar's amaretto barrel finish out of Seattle. From bottled-in-bond icons to wine-cask experiments, this list celebrates bourbon as both tradition and living craft.

	1oz	2oz
2Bar Amaretto Barrel Finished Bourbon, 45%		13
Finished in amaretto barrels, adding almond sweetness and a gentle nutty warmth.
Angel's Envy Triple Oaked Bourbon, 46%		16
Finished in three distinct oak types for layered spice, vanilla, and rich wood tones.
Baby Jane, Heirloom Corn, 45.5%		14
Crafted from heirloom corn for creamy texture, earthy sweetness, and soft spice.
Bardstown, Silver Oak Finish, 54%	15	30
Finished in Silver Oak wine barrels, adding dark fruit, oak, and soft tannin depth.
Basil Hayden, Straight Bourbon, 40%		13
Light-bodied and approachable, with soft spice, sweet corn, and a hint of rye.
Basil Hayden, Toast, 40%		15
Unique toasted barrel and brown rice mashbill yield mellow sweet with soft spice.
Bhakta, 9 year (2024), Armagnac Cask Finish, 52.7%		19
Complex, light aroma, caramel, black raspberry, tobacco leaf, allspice
Bib & Tucker, "The Classic Six"		14
6-year bourbon with notes of vanilla and chestnut
Booker's, Straight Bourbon, 63%		16
Cask strength, unfiltered bourbon with bold oak, vanilla, and lingering heat.
Breckenridge PX Cask Finish, 45%		15
Finished in Pedro Ximénez casks for notes of fig, raisin, and rich toffee.
Breckenridge, Rum Cask Finish, 45%		15
Finished in rum casks for tropical sweetness, molasses richness, and smooth oak.
Buffalo Trace, Straight Bourbon, 45%		8
Flagship bourbon with notes of caramel, vanilla, and gentle spice.
Colonel E.H. Taylor, Small Batch, Bottled in Bond, 50%		16
Bonded at 100 proof with caramel corn, butterscotch, and peppery spice.
Dark Hollow, Pennsylvania Bourbon, 47%		14
Pennsylvania-made bourbon with rich grain character, toasted oak, and earthy depth.

	1oz	2oz
Elijah Craig, Single Barrel, 18 Yr, 45%	12	24
Aged 18 years for deep oak, leather, spice, and sweet vanilla richness.
Elijah Craig, Small Batch, Straight Bourbon, 47%		9
Well-balanced with caramel, baking spice, and toasted oak.
Evan Williams, Bottled in Bond, 50%		9
100-proof with bold spice, toasty oak, and a long vanilla finish.
Gambit No.6, Aged 6 years, 46%		14
A six-cask finished bourbon with cacao, sweet tobacco and ripe fruit.
Heaven Hill, Parker's Heritage Collection, 14 years, 53.5%	11	22
Aged malt whiskey with hints of vanilla & chocolate finished in cognac barrels.
Heaven Hill, Bottled in Bond, 7 years, 50%		13
Seven-year bonded bourbon with balanced vanilla, oak, and baking spice.
Henry McKenna, Bottled in Bond, 10 year, 50%		15
Single barrel, 10-year bonded bourbon with smooth oak, honey, and warm spice.
Jim Beam, Black, 7 years, 45%		12
Aged longer for added oak character, mellow vanilla, and spice.
Knob Creek Single Barrel Reserve, 9 years, 60%		15
120-proof single barrel with deep char, dark sugar, and roasted nuts.
Knob Creek, Small Batch, Straight Bourbon, 50%		11
Full-bodied, 100-proof bourbon with rich oak, sweet corn, and spice.
Legent Bourbon, 47%		10
Blend of bourbon finished in wine and sherry casks – soft fruit meets classic spice.
Maker's Mark French Oaked 46, 47%		11
Finished with French oak staves for elevated spice, caramel, and vanilla.
Maker's Mark, Private Selection, Milk Chocolate Truffle, 55%		16
Custom stave selection yields chocolate-rich, dessert-forward bourbon, smooth finish.
Maker's Mark, Straight Bourbon, 45%		10
Wheated bourbon known for soft sweetness, caramel, and light oak.

	1oz	2oz
Mendocino Spirits, Bourbon, 3 Yrs, 42%		10
Pot-distilled craft bourbon with youthful brightness and subtle fruit and spice.
Michter's, Small Batch, Straight Bourbon, 46%		12
Silky and rich with caramel, dried fruit, and a hint of smoke.
Old Fitzgerald Bottled in Bond, 7 years, 50%		17
Whisper of wheat, notes of brown sugar, bakcing spices and oak.
Penelope Bourbon, Four Grain, 40%		12
Balanced, sweet fruit and grain, Savory vanilla note, cornbread finish.
Penelope Bourbon, Rose Cask Finish, 47%		12
Finished in French rosé wine casks. Floral, lightly fruity, with crisp spice and gentle warmth.
Rabbit Hole, Dareringer, 46.5%		13
Straight bourbon in PX sherry casks. Cherry, dark chocolate, and baking spice.
Remus Gatsby Reserve, 15 Yrs old, 51.4%		18
Baking spice, aged oak, leather, hint of tobacco.
Remus Repeal Reserve, 2025 Medley, 52%		18
Blend of aged bourbons with oak and rye spice. Vanilla, pepper, caramel.
Smoke Wagon, Uncut, Unfiltered Straight Bourbon, 57.84%		15
Bitter citrus, woody caramel, woody warming finish
Weller, Special Reserve, Wheated Bourbon, 45%		13
Wheated bourbon, soft and sweet with honey, butterscotch, and vanilla.
Willett Pot Still Reserve, Aged 8-10 years, 47%		15
Marachino cherry, bitter orange, and a touch of brown sugar and oak.
Woodford Reserve, Double Oak Aged, 47%		12
Double-barreled for rich vanilla, toasted oak, and layered caramel complexity.

	1oz	2oz

American Craft & Single Malts

Across the country, a new generation of distillers is reshaping American whiskey – reviving old methods, experimenting with new ones, and crafting spirits that reflect their place. These whiskeys don't always follow the rules, and that's the point. From the malted barley elegance of St. George's pioneering California single malt to the hop-forward rebellion of Charbay's IPA-distilled R5, these bottles push boundaries while honoring the soul of whiskey. You'll find Cognac pot-distilled spirits from Mendocino Spirits, bold stout and pinot finishes from Oregon's Westward, and other singular expressions that defy easy labels – but never lack intention.

Bookers, Little Book, Chapter 9, "None for Granted", 60.9% 18
Blended with aged grain spirit – soft, light-bodied, and extremely smooth for sipping.

Charbay, Doubled & Twisted, 45% 14
Craft whiskey from Mendocino with bold grain character, spice, and a brandy-like edge.

Charbay, R5, 49.5% 16
Mendocino craft whiskey with inviting notes of smokey French oak, vanilla and hops.

Heaven Hill, Mellow Corn, Straight Corn Whiskey, 50% 8
100% corn whiskey – light, sweet, and herbal with a nostalgic old-school charm.

Mendocino Spirits, Spirit Whiskey, 46% 11
Blended with aged grain spirit – soft, light-bodied, and extremely smooth for sipping.

Seagram's 7, Blended Whiskey, 40% 8
Classic American blend – light, easy-drinking, with subtle caramel and vanilla.

St. George Spirits, Single Malt Whiskey, 40th Anniversary, 48% 23 46
California single malt with fruit, cocoa, spice, and elegant malt character.

Westward, Stout Cask, 46% 15
Finished in stout beer casks – dark chocolate, roasted malt, and rich sweetness.

Westward, Pinot Noir Cask, 45% 15
Pinot Noir barrel finish adds berry notes and tannic grip to this bold single malt.

	1oz	2oz

World Whisky

Whiskey may have been born in the old world, but its story now spans the globe. From the quiet precision of Japanese distillers to the humid warehouses of Taiwan and the sunlit stills of India, each region brings its own climate, grain, and philosophy to the craft. These whiskeys aren't imitations – they're interpretations, shaped by local water, weather, and will. Our collection includes Shibui's Okinawan elegance, Kavalan's sherry-rich depth, and Paul John's peated fire from Goa. They remind us that while whiskey may speak many dialects, its voice – complex, warm, and honest – is always worth listening to.

Crown Royal, 40%, Manitoba, Canada 10
Classic Canadian blend – silky, mellow, with vanilla and soft rye spice.

Jameson, 40%, County Cork, Ireland 9
Triple-distilled Irish whiskey – light and floral with notes of honey and grain.

Ka Va Lan, Oloroso Sherry Oak, 46%, Taiwan 13 26
Single malt matured in sherry casks – bold with dried fruit, spice, and silky richness.

Nikka, From the Barrell, 51.4%, Japan 12
High-proof Japanese blend – rich oak, toffee, and spice with impeccable balance.

Paul John, 55% Peated, India 16
Peated Indian single malt – earthy smoke layered with tropical fruit and creamy malt.

Red Breast, 12 Yrs. Old, 46%, County Cork, Ireland 15
Single pot still Irish whiskey – nutty, oily, and full of dried fruit complexity.

Shibui, 18 Yr, Single Grain, Sherry Cask, 40%, Okinawa, Japan 20 40
Elegant Okinawan grain whisky – sherry-matured with notes of fig, spice, and oak.

The Hakushu, Whisky, 12 years, 43%, Japan 21
Crisp and gently smoked with herbal notes.

The Yamazaki Whisky, 12 years, 43%, Japan 21
Medium-bodied with aromas of dried fruits and honey and a woody finish.

Toki Suntory Whisky, 43%, Japan 10
Crisp and light Japanese blend – orchard fruit, white pepper, and clean malt.

	1oz	2oz

Rye

Rye was America's first whiskey—born in the Northeast, where corn was scarce but rye grew hardy and wild. It's a whiskey with an edge: leaner, spicier, more pepper than vanilla. Once nearly forgotten, rye has roared back in recent years, reclaiming its place on back bars and in bold-hearted cocktails. Our collection reflects that renaissance—from bonded Kentucky classics to rum-cask-finished ryes like Angel's Envy, and Vermont's 11-year Whistlepig, whose grassy spice carries echoes of old-world grain. If bourbon is a slow drawl, rye is a sharp grin—and it's every bit as American.

Angel's Envy, Finished Rye, 50% 14
Finished in Caribbean rum casks—lush with sweet molasses, spice, and tropical fruit.

Basil Hayden, Dark Rye, 40% 15
Blend of Kentucky and Canadian ryes with port—silky, spiced, and subtly sweet.

Bulleit, Straight Rye, 45% 11
95% rye mashbill delivers sharp spice, green apple, and a dry finish.

High West, Double Rye, 46% 10
Marriage of young and old ryes—bracing mint, clove, and honeyed depth.

Jack Daniels, Straight Rye, 46% 9
Tennessee rye mellowed through charcoal—soft spice, sweet grain, and oak.

Jim Beam, Rye, Prohibition Style, 45% 9
Pre-Prohibition inspired—bold rye spice, black pepper, and toasted grain.

Mendocino Spirits, Captain Fletcher's Reserve, Rye Malt, 47.3% 18
Eight-year pot-distilled rye malt—herbal, structured, and uniquely smooth.

Old Carter, Batch 15, Straight Rye, 59% 22 44
Rye spice with cinnamon, clove and cracked pepper. Warm finish.

Pikesville, Straight Rye, 55% 13
High-proof Maryland rye—bold cinnamon, cocoa, and dry oak spice.

	1oz	2oz
Whistlepig, Old World, 12 Year, 43%		18
Vermont rye aged twelve years: minty, earthy, and luxuriously complex.
Whistlepig Rye, 6 years, 48.28%		9
A younger Whistlepig expression with vibrant spice, citrus, and grassy grain character.
Wild Turkey, 101, Straight Rye, 50.5%		12
Full-flavored rye with bold spice, eucalyptus, and toasted oak richness.

Bottled-in-Bond - what is it?

Bottled in Bond is a designation established by the U.S. Bottled-in-Bond Act of 1897 that guarantees a whiskey's authenticity and consistency. To qualify, the spirit must be the product of one distillation season (either January–June or July–December), made by a single distiller at one distillery, aged for at least four years in a federally bonded warehouse, and bottled at exactly 100 proof (50% ABV). For many whiskey enthusiasts, Bottled in Bond represents a benchmark of quality and transparency: the higher proof delivers fuller flavor and structure, while the strict regulations ensure integrity and traceability. As a result, these whiskeys are often favored for their balance of bold character, historical significance, and dependable craftsmanship.

SCOTCH WHISKY

Scotch whisky is both legend and landscape. It carries with it the mists of the Highlands, the salt spray of island coasts, the still hush of stone warehouses where spirit breathes through oak for decades. It is, perhaps more than any other style, tied to place – not just by law, but by soul. Each region in Scotland tells its own story: the soft, honeyed malts of Speyside; the stormy, smoke-wreathed drams of Islay; the rugged complexity of Highland whiskies; the coastal clarity of the Islands; the gentle florals of the Lowlands; the rare, oily treasures of Campbeltown. Together, they form a tapestry both ancient and alive.

Scotch must be made in Scotland, aged at least three years in oak, and distilled with care that often stretches back generations. Some distilleries are centuries old; others are new but no ess devoted. Barley, water, yeast, time – and in many cases, a bit of smoke – are transformed into something enduring. From sherry-aged Macallans to maritime Ledaigs, Scotch is a spirit of depth and patience.

Our list offers a window into this world. You'll find landmark names and hidden gems: whiskies matured in wine casks, peated and unpeated expressions, bottles aged ten years, and others a uarter-century or more. Whether you begin with a Speyside classic or a thunderous Islay malt, let the journey be your own. Scotch is not something to master – it is something to explore. And every dram holds a different sky.

Highlands

	1oz	2oz

The Highlands are vast, rugged, and wonderfully diverse – tretching from windswept coasts to misty glens. Highland malts can be rich and powerful or soft and floral, depending on their location. This region is home to some of Scotland's most iconic whiskies, with flavors ranging from heather and dried fruit to oak, smoke, and spice. If Speyside is a sonnet, the Highlands are an epic – untamed, expressive, and full of character.

Dalwhinnie, Aged 15 Yrs, 43%		16
Gentle Highland malt with heather honey, soft fruit, and a whisper of smoke.
Glencadam, 13 Yrs, 46%		14
Crisp and floral with lemon zest, vanilla cream, and a clean barley finish.
Glenmorangie, Quinta, 14 Yrs, 46%		15
Port cask finish adds plum, chocolate, and spice to this elegant Highland malt.
Glenmorangie, The Signet, 46%	20	40
Made with high-roast "chocolate malt" barley – intensely rich with coffee and spice.

	1oz	2oz
Gordon MacPhail, Old Pulteney, 21 Yrs, 46%	11	22
Coastal Highland whisky with sea breeze, dried fruit, and old oak complexity.
The Dalmore, Aged 17 Yrs, Three Sherry Casks, 42%	14	28
Orchard fruit, wood spice with a long finish of chocolate and cinnamon.
Tomatin, Aged 14 Yrs, Port Cask, 46%		18
Port wood lends berry sweetness and nutty depth to this mellow Highland malt.

	1oz	2oz

Lowlands

The Lowlands offer a softer side of Scotch. Often triple-distilled, these whiskies are light, floral, and clean – meadow in a glass. Once home to dozens of distilleries, the region is experiencing a quiet revival, blending elegance with innovation. Expect notes of grass, citrus, and gentle malt. If you're just beginning your Scotch journey, the Lowlands offer a graceful first step.

Alex Murray, Bladnoch, 25 Yrs, 40% 12 24

Rare Lowland expression – elegant and refined with honey, citrus peel, and old oak.

Bladnoch, 17 Yrs, 46.7% 18

Delicate Lowland malt showing soft florals, orchard fruit, and a silky finish.

	1oz	2oz

Speyside

Tucked along the River Spey in northeastern Scotland, this region is home to more than half of the country's distilleries – names like Glenlivet, Macallan, Balvenie, and Aberlour. Speyside whiskies are often considered the most approachable: soft, elegant, and fruit-forward, with notes of honey, apple, vanilla, and gentle spice. But don't mistake their subtlety for simplicity – these drams carry extraordinary depth, and their refinement has made them beloved the world over.

Aberlour, Double Cask, 12 Yrs, 40%	11	22
Matured in bourbon and sherry casks – rich with spice, fruit, and smooth vanilla.
Alex Murray, Glentauchers, 17 Yrs,		18
Elegant Speyside malt with orchard fruit, honeyed malt, and subtle spice.
Balvenie, 21 Yrs, finished in port cask, 43%	22	44
Port finish adds berry compote and velvet richness to this aged classic.
Douglas Braeval, 11 Yrs, 46%		14
Light-bodied and gently floral with vanilla, soft pear, and sweet malt.
Gordon MacPhail, Glenburgie, 15 Yrs, 43%		15
Delicate and fruity Speyside with apple, honey, and toasted oak.
Gordon MacPhail, Linkwood, 15 Yrs, 46%		16
Fragrant and refined – blossoms, green apple, and polished oak.
Oban, Aged 14 Yrs, 46%		16
Bridging Highland and maritime styles – rich fruit, sea air, and a touch of smoke.
The Glenlivet, Aged 12 Yrs, 40%		12
Crisp and approachable with pear, citrus, and vanilla cream.
The Glenlivet, Aged 14 Yrs, Cognac Cask, 40%		16
Finished in Cognac casks – rich with stone fruit, toffee, and a refined floral finish.
The Macallan, Aged 12 Yrs, Sherry Cask, 43%		18
Sherry-matured for notes of dried fruit, spice, and orange peel.

	1oz	2oz
The Macallan, Aged 18 Yrs, Sherry Cask, 43%	24	48
Sherried richness with fig, cocoa, and soft oak tannins.
The Macallan, Rare Cask, 43%	21	42
Crafted from exceptional sherry-seasoned casks – lush and complex with dried fruit and spice.
Tomintoul, 12 Years, The Gentle Dram, 40%		16
Known for softness – light honey, almond, and subtle oak.

	1oz	2oz

Islay

Islay (pronounced eye-luh) is legendary for peat smoke – thick, briny, medicinal, unforgettable. Whiskies from this small island on Scotland's western edge are bold and unapologetic, shaped by sea spray and centuries of tradition. Laphroaig, Ardbeg, Lagavulin – these are not shy drams. But within the smoke is poetry: citrus, iodine, seaweed, dark fruit. Islay is not for everyone, but for those it calls, it never lets go.

Ardbeg, Uigeadail, 54.2% 16
Cask-strength Ardbeg with rich sherry influence – peat smoke, dried fruit, and deep spice.

Bowmore, 18 Years, 43% 12 24
Balanced Islay malt with peaty warmth, dark chocolate, and sea-salted caramel.

Bowmore, Wine Cask, 16 Yrs, 53.5% 11 22
Red wine cask finish lends dark berries and smoke to Bowmore's maritime peat.

Bruichladdich, the Classic Laddie, 50% 16
Unpeated Islay malt – bright barley, sea spray, and citrus, with a crisp, coastal finish.

Bunnahabhain, Aged 12 Yrs, 46% 18
Unpeated Islay whisky – rich and nutty with coastal character and sherry sweetness.

Bunnahabhain, Aged 18 Yrs, 46.3% 18 36
Mature and elegant with dried fruit, salted toffee, and gentle oak.

Bunnahabhain, Feis Ile, Aged 14 Yrs, 2024 Edition, 58.7% 18 36
Robust notes of cherries, dark chocolate, berries with a lingering, spicy finish

Lagavulin, 200th Anniversary, 12 Yrs, 56.5% 26 52
Cask-strength, limited release – intensely peaty with citrus zest and brine.

Laphroaig, Aged 10 Yrs, 43% 14
Classic Islay – intense medicinal peat, seaweed, and bold smoke.

	1oz	2oz

Islands

Though not officially a Scotch region, the Islands are unified by geography and a sense of elemental boldness. From the windswept Orkneys to Skye and Mull, these distilleries produce whiskies with maritime influence – salt air, stormy peat, and windswept heather. You'll often find a balance between smoke and sweetness, ruggedness and grace. Every island has its own voice, but together they feel like tales told by the sea.

Gordon MacPhail, Ledaig, 2005, 45%		16
Heavily peated Island malt – coastal brine, smoke, and aged depth from sherry cask aging.
Highland Park, 12 Years, Viking Honour, Orkney Islands, 43%		18
Balanced Orkney malt – heather smoke, honeyed malt, and gentle peat.
Highland Park, 21 Years, 2023 Release, Orkney Islands, 46%	23	46
Mature and nuanced with dried fruit, smoke, and sherried richness.
Highland Park, 25 Years, 2023 Release, Orkney Islands. 45.7%	35	70
Aged elegance – dried fruit, polished oak, and delicate smoke with long finish.
Highland Park, Aged 18 Yrs, Orkney Islands, 43%	14	28
Signature harmony of smoke, dried fruit, and balanced sweetness.
Highland Park, The Dark, 17 Yrs, Orkney Islands, 52.9%	20	40
Sherry cask-matured and richly spiced – plum, chocolate, and a smoky finish.
Ledaig, 18 Yrs, 46.3%	14	28
Peated Tobermory malt – robust smoke layered with spice and coastal brine.
Ledaig, 9 Years, Cask Strength, 56.8%		18
Young and bold – intense peat, salt spray, and citrus under high proof.

	1oz	2oz

Campbeltown

Once Scotland's whisky capital, Campbeltown now holds just a few working distilleries – but what remains is potent and beloved. These whiskies are known for their weight and complexity: oily, briny, sometimes smoky, often strange in the best way. Springbank, Longrow, and Glen Scotia carry the torch here, producing bold, distinctive malts with a maritime backbone and a cult following.

Longrow, 10 Years, Campbeltown, Sherrywood, 46% 18

Heavily peated and sherry-aged – rich smoke meets dried fruit and leather.

Springbank, 18 Yrs, 46% 19 38

Complex and iconic – waxed fruit, coastal smoke, and layered oak maturity.

	1oz	2oz

Blended Scotch

Blended Scotch is often misunderstood – too quickly dismissed as simple or mass-produced. In truth, blending is one of the highest expressions of whisky-making: a careful, creative act of balance, where different single malts and grains are woven into something greater than the sum of their parts. Nowhere is that more evident than in the work of Compass Box. Their whiskies – like Flaming Heart, Orchard House, and Hedonism – blur the line between tradition and innovation, embracing transparency, imagination, and a modern palate. These are blends with soul and vision. Alongside them, you'll find iconic names like Johnnie Walker Blue Label, a whisky built for elegance and reverence. To sip a blend is not to settle – it's to discover harmony, craftsmanship, and sometimes, a bit of magic.

Compass Box, Artist Blend, 43%		11
Creamy and fruit-forward with grain whisky elegance and subtle oak spice.
Compass Box, Flaming Heart, 48.9%	13	26
Bold, smoky blend of Highland malt and Islay peat – spice, fire, and balance.
Compass Box, Hedonism, 43%	14	28
Rare blended grain whisky – lush vanilla, coconut, and soft creaminess.
Compass Box, Orchard House, 46%		14
Vibrant and fruity – green apple, citrus, delicate malt from fresh oak maturation.
Compass Box, The Peat Monster, 46%		18
Rich Islay smoke balanced with sweet malt and peppery depth.
Johnnie Walker Blue Label, 40%	19	38
Luxury blend – silky smooth with honey, spice, dried fruit, and smoky undertones.
Johnnie Walker Red Label, 40%		12
Light-bodied and versatile with gentle smoke, malt sweetness, and a dry finish.
Monkey Shoulder, Speyside, 43%		14
Smooth and malty blended malt – vanilla, honey, and toasted oak with easy charm.

Our Distilling Partnership with Mendocino Spirits

Every bottle on the next four pages was chosen in a barrel room in Redwood Valley, a little over an hour inland from the inn. A few times a year our general manager, Scott Schneider, drives over to Mendocino Spirits to taste through whatever Crispin Cain has resting in wood. Some barrels are ready. Some need another year. Some will never be repeated, like a rye that spent its last year in a Cabernet barrel from Buena Vista. Scott and Crispin taste together, talk about what our guests have been drinking, and decide which casks get bottled for Noyo Harbor Inn. The runs are small, 24 to 96 numbered bottles, and when they are gone there is no more. That ephemeral nature is part of what we love about this program.

Crispin came to Mendocino County in 1985, at twenty, to work in wine. In August 1989 he got a phone call at a friend's house from Hubert Germain-Robin, the Cognac distiller who had brought an antique pot still from France to a barn in the hills west of Ukiah. Local winemakers had recommended him. Crispin assumed it was a prank. He went to the interview the next morning anyway and spent the following years as Hubert's assistant, running the still overnight and taking college classes by day. Hubert taught him to ferment grain with champagne yeast, to work a flame-fired Charentais still by hand, to double distill the way Cognac has been made for five centuries, and to tend barrels patiently over years rather than months. He also learned Hubert's standards, which were exacting.

Crispin started his own distillery with his wife, Tamar Kaye, a Mendocino County native, and began making whiskey in 2010 on the same stills he trained on, one of them built around 1800. He still runs their distillery today, with his eldest son now apprenticing beside him. His method has not changed. He ferments grain the way a winemaker ferments fruit, for weeks rather than days, until the yeast has taken everything it can. The spirit comes off the still clear and slightly sweet, and then it waits. Our twelve-year rye malt is his grandfather's recipe, the same whiskey the family made in Minnesota a century ago. Our ten-year gin sat untouched in a single Limousin oak barrel from 2016. When people ask Crispin what he does differently, our favorite answer we've heard him say is: "There's nothing like time."

In 2026 the New Orleans Spirits Competition named Mendocino Spirits its Craft Distillery of the Year and gave his eight-year bourbon Whiskey of the Year, ahead of every entry from Kentucky. The nine-year Cabernet-finished rye on the next page took a silver medal at the same competition. One old-timer at a tasting told him, "This is the Germain-Robin of whiskey." We agree.

We have priced these pours deliberately. A two-ounce pour costs about what the same measure would cost you from a bottle bought at retail. Most restaurants mark rare whiskey up three or four times. We would rather you try it. These are spirits made an hour from where you are sitting, in quantities small enough that we can tell you which barrel they came from, and the best thing we can do with them is get them into glasses. Each is available by the glass in the bar and restaurant, and three are also sold as numbered bottles in our gift shop. Ask your server which barrel Scott is tasting next.

"It is an honor and a thrill to be able to work with Crispin on our own special bottlings. His skill, knowledge, personality and endless stories are a perfect match for the type of program we strive for with our whiskey program. We are so lucky to have such an award winning distillery in our own backyard and even luckier to have the opportunity to taste through special barrels and choose whiskeys (and a whiskey lover's gin) that I just know customer will love! We love doing our seasonal dinners, showcasing not only Crispin's talents as a distiller but also our cuisine featuring local seafood and produce. We can't wait to see what's next!"

– Scott Schneider, General Manager, Certified Scotch Professional

"Noyo Harbor Inn and Mendocino Spirits is a perfect match. Carefully curated Mendocino Spirits whiskies and gins paired with the finest cuisine in the romantic atmosphere of the Harbor View Restaurant is the quintessential experience on the Mendocino Coast."

– Master Distiller Crispin Cain

LOW GAP

RYE MALT WHISKEY

9

YEARS OLD

DISTILLED IN AN ANTIQUE POT STILL FROM COGNAC
FINISHED IN CABERNET SAUVIGNON BARRELS

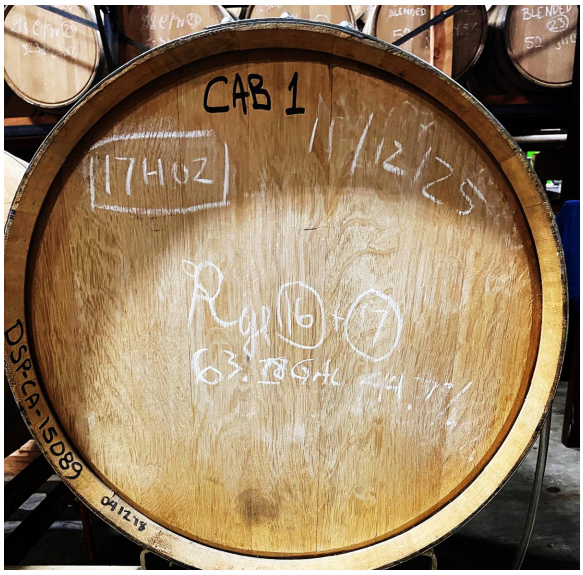

SPECIAL LIMITED BOTTLING

for

NOYO HARBOR INN

DISTILLED AND BOTTLED BY TAMAR DISTILLERY, INC.
REDWOOD VALLEY, CALIFORNIA

Bottle Number ____ of 30 44.7% alc. by vol. 750 ml

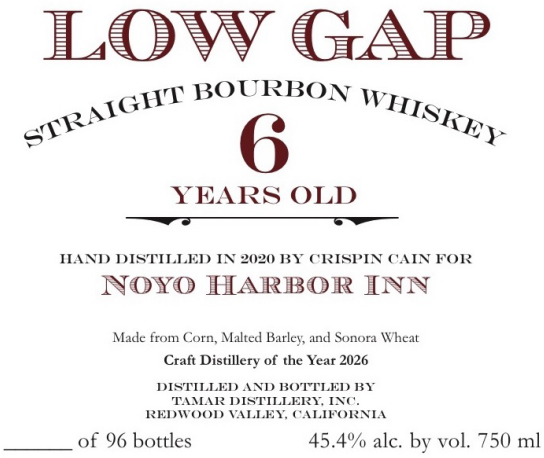

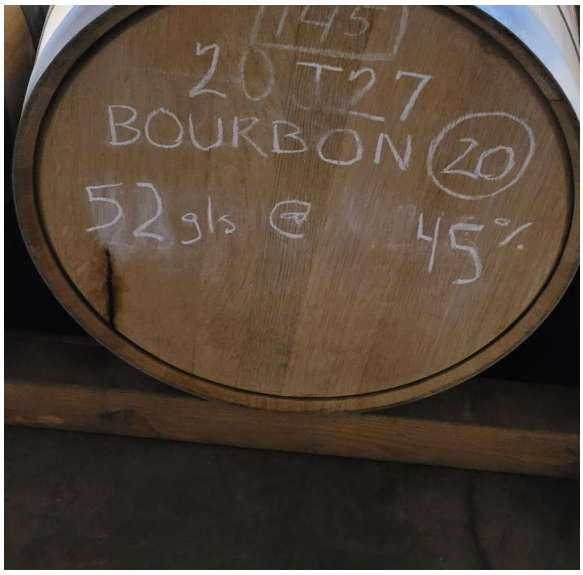

Our Signature Rye

We're proud to introduce a truly singular whisky: a 9-year-old Rye from Mendocino Spirits / Tamar Distillery. Made from 100% malted rye, distilled in 2016 and 2017, and finished in new charred American White Oak barrels for 30 months, transferred to used Cognac barrels for extensive aging, then finished for a year in a used Cabernet Sauvignon barrel from Buena Vista Winery and bottled exclusively for us in a limited run of just 30 bottles. Master Distiller Crispin Cain brings over four decades of experience to every spirit he creates, having apprenticed under legendary Cognac distiller Hubert Germain-Robin before founding his own operation. Crispin employs traditional Charentais pot stills and the double distillation method used in Cognac for centuries, approaching grain fermentation with a winemaker's patience and precision. The result is whisky of remarkable depth and elegance, and this Cabernet barrel finish adds layers of dark fruit and tannic complexity that complement the rye's natural spice.

Partnering with artisans like Crispin is central to our whisky program's philosophy. We seek out craftspeople who share our commitment to quality and place, and Mendocino Spirits embodies both. We're excited to offer this one-of-a-kind expression to our guests, available by the glass in the bar and restaurant.

	2oz
Mendocino Spirits 9-year-old Cabernet Sauvignon Casked Rye, 44.7%	19
Finished in Cabernet Sauvignon barrels, bottled for Harborview Bistro and Bar.

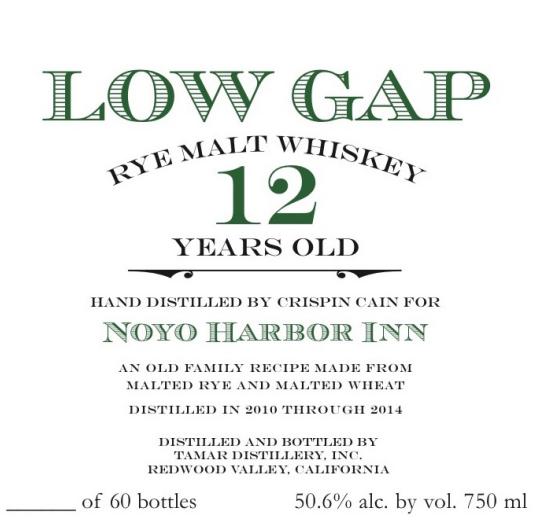

Our Low Gap Bourbon

Six years in the barrel: the Low Gap Bourbon 6 Years Old is the oldest bourbon Mendocino Spirits has ever released. Hand distilled in 2020 by Crispin Cain for Noyo Harbor Inn from corn, malted barley, and Sonora wheat, and bottled at 45.4%, about 90 proof. It is smooth and rounded, with golden caramel, toasted nuts, and marzipan carried on a long, gentle finish. Crispin trained under Cognac master Hubert Germain-Robin and still distills on flame-fired Charentais pot stills in Redwood Valley, and that patience shows in a bourbon that never shouts.

Our bottling is a run of 96 numbered bottles. Pour it neat or over a single large cube, and ask about taking one home: it is available by the glass in the bar and restaurant and as a numbered bottle in our gift shop for just $160.

	2oz
Mendocino Spirits Low Gap 6-year-old Bourbon, 45.4%	15
Golden caramel, toasted nuts, and marzipan. Bottled for Harborview Bistro and Bar.

Our 12-Year Rye Malt

The Low Gap 12 Year Old Rye Malt is an old family recipe from Ireland: 93% rye malt and 7% wheat malt, the same whiskey Crispin Cain's grandfather was making in Minnesota a century ago. This bottling was distilled in 2013 and 2014 and aged in small eight-gallon casks from Minnesota, near the family's old distillery site. Twelve years in those small barrels give it dense, complex oak over malted grain, with the weight and length of a whiskey made for slow evenings. Bottled at 50.6%.

Sixty numbered bottles were set aside for Noyo Harbor Inn. Crispin suggests pairing it with a good cigar, and our Cigar Lounge in the gazebo over the harbor is the place to try that. Available by the glass or as a numbered bottle in our gift shop for just $240.

	2oz
Mendocino Spirits Low Gap 12-year-old Rye Malt, 50.6%	22
Dense, complex oak and malted grain; a fine pairing with your favorite cigar.

Our 10-Year Aged Whiskey-Lover's Gin

A whiskey-lover's gin if ever there was one. Nowhere else will you find a gin aged for ten years. Crispin Cain distilled and barreled this gin in 2016 in a new 350-liter Limousin oak barrel from the Vicard cooperage in Cognac, medium-plus toast, and left it alone for a decade. The French oak draws out the botanicals rather than burying them: juniper, coriander, cardamom, lemon and orange peel, grains of paradise, orris root, licorice root, rosemary, and cinnamon, softened into something closer to an old brandy than a London dry. Bottled at 56%, exclusively for Noyo Harbor Inn.

Just 24 numbered bottles exist. Try it neat, or in a gin and tonic that tastes like no other. Available by the glass in the bar and restaurant and as a numbered bottle in our gift shop for just $180.

	2oz
Mendocino Spirits 10-year-old Barrel-Aged Gin, 56%	16

Ten years in Limousin oak; juniper, citrus peel, cardamom, and spice. Exclusive to Noyo Harbor Inn.

HarborView
BISTRO & BAR

FINE WHISKY FLIGHTS

A TASTE OF MENDOCINO 36

Mendocino County is known for more than just wine. Some of the best distilled spirits in the country are produced here for bourbon and whisky lovers worldwide.

Charbay Double and Twisted, 45%
Craft whiskey from Mendocino with bold grain character, spice, and a brandy-like edge.

Charbay R5 Hop Flavored, 49%
Distilled from IPA beer—hoppy, herbal, and entirely unique among American whiskeys.

Mendocino Spirits 8 Year Rye Malt
Eight-year pot-distilled rye malt—herbal, structured, and uniquely smooth.

Mendocino Spirits 7 Year Aged Spirit
Blended with aged grain spirit—soft, light-bodied, and extremely smooth for sipping.

SPECIALTY BOTTLINGS 43

Four unique and limited distillations from Master Distiller Crispin Cain, bottled for Noyo Harbor Inn and our guests.

Mendocino Spirits 9-Year Rye Malt, 44.7%
Finished in Cabernet Sauvignon barrels, light-bodied, subtle spice, excellent sipper.

Mendocino Spirits 6-Year Bourbon, 45.4%
An old and rich bourbon, round and smooth, caramel, toasted nuts, and marzipan.

Mendocino Spirits 12-Year Rye Malt, 50.6%
A family recipe from Ireland, aged in small barrels, carrying through rich oak.

Mendocino Spirits 10-Year Aged Gin, 56%
A whiskey-lover's gin, aged in Limousin oak from cognac, highlighting botanicals unlike ever before.

WIDE WORLD OF WHISKEY 42

Whiskey is produced in dozens of countries and on 6 of 7 continents. Expand your horizons by exploring the world through the glass.

Taiwan: Ka Va Lon, Oloroso Sherry Cask, 46%
Single malt matured in sherry casks—bold with dried fruit, spice, and silky richness.

Japan: Nikka, From the Barrel, 51.4%
High-proof Japanese blend—rich oak, toffee, and spice with impeccable balance.

Ireland: Red Breast, 12 Year Pot Still, 46%
Single pot still Irish whiskey—nutty, oily, and full of dried fruit complexity.

Scotland: Dalwhinnie, 15 Year Single Malt, 43%
Gentle Highland malt with heather honey, soft fruit, and a whisper of smoke.

PREMIUM BOURBON 39

Bourbon has become more than just a passion for people. It's become an asset that people hunt and search for. These premium and allocated bourbons are perfect for the enthusiast.

Elijah Craig, Single Barrel, 18 Year, 45%
Aged 18 years for deep oak, leather, spice, and sweet vanilla richness.

Bardstown, Straight Bourbon Finished in Silver Oak Barrels, 54%
Balance of oak, spice and blackberry and a full body palate of caramel and fig.

Little Book, Ch. 9 "None for Granted" Bourbon, 60.9%
Full bodied with notes of creamy vanilla, baking spice, stone fruits and charred oak.

Basil Hayden, Toast, 40%
Finished in toasted barrels delivering hints of char and caramel sweetness.

RYE JOURNEY 35

The original American whiskey, Rye has seen an amazing renaissance in recent years, and we're excited to share some of the breadth of this new crop.

Whistlepig, Old World, 12 Year, 43%
Vermont rye aged twelve years: minty, earthy, and luxuriously complex.

Mendocino Spirits, Captain Fletcher's, 47.3%
Malted rye from old Cognac pot stills, aged eight years in American oak.

High West, Double Rye, 46%
Marriage of young and old ryes: bracing mint, clove, and honeyed depth.

Angel's Envy, Finished Rye, 50%
Finished in Caribbean rum casks: lush with sweet molasses, spice, and tropical fruit.

A TOUR OF SCOTLAND 45

The UK government legally defines regions for whisky production in Scotland. Currently there are 5: Highlands, Lowlands, Speyside, Isle of Islay, and Cambletown. Explore the country with this selection highlighting the regions.

Compass Box, Orchard House, Edinburgh, 46%
Vibrant and fruity—green apple, citrus, and delicate malt from fresh oak maturation.

Bunnahabhain, Aged 18 Years, Isle of Islay, 46.3%
Mature and elegant with dried fruit, salted toffee, and gentle oak.

Oban, Aged 14 Years, Speyside, 46%
Bridging Highland and maritime styles—rich fruit, sea air, and a touch of smoke.

Highland Park, Aged 18 Years, Orkney Islands, 43%
Signature harmony of smoke, dried fruit, and balanced sweetness.

View our full whiskey list by scanning the QR code above, or ask for a physical copy of our book.

Our staff is available to help guide your whiskey journey.